

Let's America Great Again

By: Hanna Wright

Let's make America great again,
Where all the freedoms are guaranteed,
The bullets aren't shot just at one type of race,
When people finally are united together as a whole.

Let's bring back the man of color that encouraged millions,
With the swipe of his hand, people all over the world would be ready to listen,
Let's make America great again,
Where all freedoms and rights are now for everyone.

Let's bring back the man of color who stood up for all people,
No matter the color of your skin,
No matter what you believe,
He was the man who encouraged and stood up for all like the main wolf in the pack,
He made our lives brighter than a star on a cold, dark, bloodless night,
The man of a heart of gold would say,
Let's make America Great Again.

Let's make America great again,
Where the man of the centuries inspired all,
Helped encourage millions,
He is the real heart of America.
