A fun out of the office message from one of our directors. You learn 10 facts and a web-site you can go to daily.

Hello! I am off for the week on a beach, convincing myself that science is right when it says shark attacks are rare. I'll be shore to get back to you, but your email may get swallowed by my inbox or, you know, sharks.

If it's pressing, send to projects@downtowndanville.com. If it's not, and you're just bored, here are some facts you might find interesting:

1. There once was a man hit on the head by a falling baby, TWICE!
2. Most streets in Japan don't have names.
3. Apple seeds contain Cyanide.
4. It costs more than double what pennies and nickels are worth to produce them.
5. If you eat an excessive amount of carrots, your skin will turn an orangish/yellow shade.
6. There is a difference between the UK, England, and Great Britain.
7. Bubble wrap was originally designed to be used as a wallpaper.
8. Post-It notes were invented by accident. (they are made in the Main St. community of Cynthia, KY)
9. Every possible state of a standard Rubik's Cube can be solved in 20 moves or less.
10. Lighters were invented before the match.

New Webinar: Active Transportation for Healthy Communities (November 29, 2018) 2pm EST

About the Webinar

Activity-friendly and walkable communities are designed in ways that make physical activity easier and more accessible for everyone. America Walks has seen the dedication, passion, and innovation in communities across the US as they work to improve transportation systems to become more active, healthy, and safe with activity-friendly connections to important places in the area that attract people, provide social interaction, and allow for participation in multiple activities. In alignment with the Center for Disease Control's Connecting Routes + Destinations materials, this webinar will highlight work being done by three communities of various sizes who are working to create more activity-friendly connections for all.

Attendees of this webinar will:

- Learn first-hand from communities about resources, tools, and creativity to create people-first transportation options
