And where can you find a Hallmark Christmas? Downtown Shelbyville of course!

If you're tired of the fictional small towns and yearn for the real thing, just pack up and head to Shelbyville. On November 9, its holiday lights were officially turned on. No word on how many old flames were rekindled, but it did seem as if the whole town was there to get a jump start on the season. You may have missed the kick-off, but you still have plenty of time to get there for some small-town holiday fun.

Don't forget, Main Street Award nominations are due to the KYMS office December 10th!

Tomorrow is Good Giving Tuesday. Several of our KYMS programs have signed up to receive donations. Nick Wade, Covington has a great story on the Renaissance Covington page that you can see and I'm sure he will be happy to help you with directors on how to set up this great fundraiser. For potential donors you must share who, what, when, and why! Tell your story and share what your organization does for the community!

Lori Puchino did a "where's Lori" for several days leading up to Small Business Saturday in Mt. Washington. If you came in to the location while she was there you received a prize!

Guthrie Main Street honored a long time friend and business owner Bill Longhurst on Saturday with the unveiling of a bench with Mr. Bill. Main Street directors will remember him from his store and providing our lunch when we were in western, KY. The pocket park is named for him and he served on the Guthrie MS board for 16 years. To everyone he new Mr. Bill was Mr. Guthrie.

His son Glen stated A humble businessman, humanitarian, historian, and true friend to genuine people no matter their path in life. Dad's values were uncommonly simple. He emphasized education, respect, and social purpose. His life was measured by forthright character, and community vision. I'm proud he was my father. —
