

Main Street Monday!

Don't forget to be updating your Social media pages! We've seen some great pictures of items and food that are available by pick-up and delivery! Remember the community is looking at your sites for all the latest information!

Home Shopping comes to Main Street!

LaGrange is just one of the Main Street programs that has gone live to showcase items in their local downtown businesses! This is a great way to get the word out and people can shop right from the comfort of their own home during this time!

London had a virtual Small Business Saturday! Great ideas to R & D with Mother's Day just around the corner!

As we go through this trying time please support your local stores, restaurants and service related businesses. These are your friends and neighbors. Grab lunch or dinner for carryout, like and share their social media posts, shop online and ask about curbside pick up, delivery or shipping.

Love this message on the Russell Theatre in downtown Maysville!

This is just an intermission

Happy Birthday

Big news!! We are opening up more event space in our historic building at 125 E. Main St, La Grange, KY! That's right...Just below Upstairs on Main will be The Gallery at the Gatewood Building where we will host events, showcase amazing historic memorabilia and artists exhibits!
Stay tuned for more information!

Sam Draut/The Oldham Era

Ethan and Rachael Puckett, were married April 7 at Upstairs on Main

We can't wait for Copper and Oak to open in downtown Danville! They will be keeping in local on Main Street.

Copper & Oak management team poses inside its custom-renovated restaurant at 303 W. Main St. They are, from left: Lahannah Bonagofski, front of house manager; Nicole and Beau Cacciatore, co-owners and beef farmers; with Randy Vest, co-owner and bar manager. The new burger joint will offer locally raised beef and other items, as well as a lengthy list of bourbons, wines and other spirits

We are so excited to see this restoration on one of our favorite buildings on Cumberland Ave. the main thoroughfare in downtown Middlesboro! Known as the A.D. Campbell building the retail business on the first floor has been in business for over 50 years (and the only place we know of where you can still buy a cotton slip!) Middlesboro Main Street board chair, Mallory Quintero, is the project manager along with her many other duties at JSR Restaurant Corporation.

The inside is like stepping back in time to an old department store!

Coming soon to Murray, a new mural and Farmers Market!

We love this We will get thought this together idea from Williamsburg. Friends helping Friends. The local Pizza Hut is donating 15% of their sales to help a new pizza restaurant on Main Street. This is being a good neighbor at it's best!

Don't forget!

Historic Tax Credit applications are due Wednesday, April 29th!!!

Main Street communities across the nation are showing some love

A World of Hearts. Downtown West Chester in West Chester, Pennsylvania, is taking paper hearts to a whole new level. Taking inspiration from the windows of a local barbershop, the Main Street has been amplifying the incredible paper heart displays popping up in windows around the downtown. Businesses are tagging their installations using #AWorldOfHearts to keep the positivity and creativity flowing.

“The idea is to share love by placing hearts in our windows, and to let neighbors and those passing by know that we are all in this together,” said the program.
