Main Street Monday!

Reserve your room now! Fall Conference!!

Lake Barkley State Park will be our home base for our fall conference October –17-20. We will explore the Main Street communities in Western KY. We will do 1/2 days on the 17th and 20th. In the afternoon of the 20th for those who are interested we will travel to Franklin, Tennessee to see one of the premier Main Street programs in the country.

Historic Preservation Fund Grants

Applications due by July 31, 2017.

National Park Service

The Historic Preservation Fund Grants to Underrepresented Communities program supports the survey, inventory, and designation of historic properties that are associated with communities currently underrepresented in the National Register of Historic Places and among National Historic Landmarks. The application deadline is July 31, 2017.

How you know your spouse/significant other has been around you and Main Street way too long. Driving through North Carolina there were some road side Yard Sales set up. My husband said oh look, they have some Pop-Ups!

In that same line, Julie Wagner, Harrodsburg, was on her way to a shower and dropped a glass globe at the gas station and what did she have in her car? A broom and dustpan of course! She's a Main Street director!! Our cars are mobile offices and supply closets!

You know in Main St. we love to R&D and we are so glad that several have taken what they saw at our conference last fall in Pineville and are replicating it in their own communities! Guthrie to the left is just getting started while Scottsville to the right is still working on theirs, but it is in use this summer!!!

Covington Outdoors Weekend is a full weekend of free events in Covington, Kentucky that encourage residents and visitors to get outside, be active, and enjoy Covington's many parks, trails, and green spaces. For more details: <http://www.rcov.org/covoutdoors/>

Registration is highly encouraged because space is limited for most of the events. Click here to register: <http://www.signupgenius.com/go/30e0949a4ae2fa6f58-2017>

This event is produced by Renaissance Covington with support from City of Covington and LiveWell. It would not be possible without the generous sponsorship of St. Elizabeth, Gateway Community and Technical College, Republic Bank, and Children, Inc.

Here is a new fun idea from Covington. They are always doing something very creative!

Think fresh produce is just for a salad?
We've got another idea!

Join us as Covington's favorite bartenders go head to head to shake, mix and pour the most unique craft cocktail using fresh ingredients from the Covington Farmers Market and spirits from Watershed Distillery!

Who will win? YOU get to be the judge! $1/per taste (and we recommend trying them all!) to determine the day's winner!

Join us at the Covington Farmers Market for local shopping and a little friendly cocktail competition!

Another pic of the pocket park in Middlesboro.

The freshly painted pallet chairs look great.

What do you do when construction blocks your Main Street? Do like Bellevue and have an Endure the Detour event. They made lemonade from their lemons and had a flash bash, and Bellevue Bucks !

Cameron, did a little exploring on our visit to Perryville.

Did you know something as simple as an old mascara wand can help wildlife?! We use mascara brushes to help remove fly eggs and larva from the fur of animals. They work great because the bristles are so close together! Do you have old mascara just lying around in a drawer? Know a makeup artist? Clean off those old wands in hot soapy water and we can put them to good use! Clean brushes can be sent to:

*Appalachian Wild
P.O. Box 1211
Skyland, NC 28776*

A little something I learned while in NC.

I'm sure we all know folks who could contribute to the cause. Perhaps there is a cosmetic business in your downtown or a local spa you could partner with to save wildlife.

As you know, you never know when KYMS will show up. On my way back from SC we had a stop in Middlesboro and peeked in the window of what was the Palace when we were all there last fall and DDM board member, Donna Smith, happened to be inside! The Palace is becoming a coffee shop with gallery etc. just in time for the Levitt Music Series that will begin in just a few weeks. Donna and her husband have worked very hard on the space. In addition a building across the street is being painted!

Like most Main Street people when we travel we are always looking for ideas and stopping in other Main Street communities. This past Friday I stopped in Greenville, SC and who wouldn't want to have this beautiful creek in the middle of downtown? What I did notice though is although Greenville is beautiful with tree lined streets and lots of activity it is much different than our Kentucky Main Streets. When I stop in these places it makes me appreciate the work done in our communities even more. Our communities average 8,000 people in population and you and your team change the quality of life for your friends, neighbors, and families every day. I love that our towns are small authentic places that tell Kentucky's story. You are not told thank you nearly enough, but know that KYMS and KHC appreciate your hard work and dedication every single day!

I could see a mural like this or something similar in one of your communities for the Farmer's Market.
