Welcome to the Kentucky Heritage Council's (KHC) Public Access Kiosk!

What Does the Public Access Kiosk Do?

Allows the public access to information on Kentucky's historic places through KHC's E-Library.

E-Library: The E-Library contains documents like historic survey forms, cultural-historic reports, National Register Nomination Forms among other useful sources.

What Can I Use This Information For?

Site Checks: The information from our GIS can help determine for a project area, which properties have been surveyed, which of those surveyed need to be resurveyed and those that have not been surveyed and need a KHC Inventory Number Assignment. These are called "Site-Checks" and can help in planning survey and documentation efforts.

Background Research: The GIS accompanied with Cultural-Historic Reports and Survey Forms can fill in background information. Historic information on the counties and communities where a project is planned can be gleaned from the work of previous investigations as well as information on individual properties themselves.

KHC's E-Library: KHC has an account with Box where our E-Library is stored. Within the E-Library are folders containing survey forms, National Register Nominations and Cultural-Historic Reports is some of the sources that KHC has to offer. Feel free to click on the folders and explore the contents.
